

Incredible Years® Administrator Pyramid Summary

This pyramid provides the steps for agency or school administrators to be able to select, implement, and sustain the Incredible Years® programs with fidelity. The foundation of the pyramid includes choosing the best program for the population to be addressed, and assessing agency readiness for program delivery. The next level includes choosing the best staff to deliver the program and providing certified training and support for quality program delivery. With this foundation in place, it is possible for group leaders and therapists to become accredited or certified in the programs, which assures the best outcomes possible. With ongoing administrator quality control and assessments agencies can develop their own certified Incredible Years® coaches and mentors who can help train and support new group leaders. A supportive and planned infrastructure leads to reduced dropouts from programs and enhances outcomes for children and families.
