3. I have identified those behaviors I can ignore while keeping the children safe.	1 2 3 4 5
4. I have worked hard teaching children to ignore their peers when they are laughed at, poked or made fun of.	1 2 3 4 5
5. My ignoring is strategically planned and is done by avoiding eye contact, verbal comments, and physical touch and by keeping a neutral affect.	1 2 3 4 5

4. When my student is calm and Time Out is over, I immediately re-engage my student to another activity.	1 2 3 4 5
5. I assist other children to learn how to ignore a child in Time Out and to give him or her privacy to calm down.	1 2 3 4 5
6. I have identified a safe place for Time Out that is away from other children and relatively boring.	1 2 3 4 5
7. I help children to practice the words they will use to help themselves calm down in time out. (e.g., "I can do it, I can calm down")	1 2 3 4 5
8. I use emotion coaching to focus on times when students are staying calm, trying again, and being patient even though it is frustrating.	1 2 3 4 5

Teachers learn extensively from self-reflection regarding their classroom management and the teaching strategies they are using that are working or not working. From these reflections teachers determine personal goals for making changes in their approaches to bring about the most positive learning climate they can. Use this Inventory to think about your strengths and limitations and determine your goals.

1 – Not Helpful 3 – Neutral 5 – Very Helpful

Setting Limits
1. Rules in my classroom are stated positively and clearly and are posted on the wall. I review and practice them as needed.	1 2 3 4 5
2. I use nonverbal cues and signals to communicate rules as well as words (e.g., pictures of rules such as raise quiet hands, quiet voice, five on the floor, ears open).	1 2 3 4 5
3. I have taught children the “show me five” signal and use it.	1 2 3 4 5
4. I state requests or give directions to students respectfully using brief descriptions of positive behaviors desired (e.g., “please keep your hands to your own body”).	1 2 3 4 5
5. I use “when-then” or “first-then” commands.	1 2 3 4 5
6. I give children choices and redirections when possible.	1 2 3 4 5
7. I avoid negative commands, corrections, demands, and yelling at students.	1 2 3 4 5
8. I get children’s attention before giving instructions (e.g., eye contact).	1 2 3 4 5
9. I redirect disengaged children by calling out their name with a question, standing next to them, making up interesting games, and nonverbal signals.	1 2 3 4 5
10. I give frequent attention, praise and encouragement to children who are engaged and compliant following their directions.	1 2 3 4 5

Differential Attention and Ignoring and Redirecting
1. I give more attention and praise to positive behaviors than to inappropriate student behaviors.	1 2 3 4 5
2. I have identified negative behaviors in students I want to decrease and the “positive opposite” of each negative behavior that I will praise, reward and give attention to.	1 2 3 4 5
3. I have identified those behaviors I can ignore while keeping the children safe.	1 2 3 4 5
4. I have worked hard teaching children to ignore their peers when they are laughed at, poked or made fun of.	1 2 3 4 5
5. My ignoring is strategically planned and is done by avoiding eye contact, verbal comments, and physical touch and by keeping a neutral affect.	1 2 3 4 5
6. I use proximal praise strategically (e.g., praise nearby child for behavior I want to encourage) while ignoring the child who is inappropriate.	1 2 3 4 5
7. I use positive self-talk as an approach to staying calm when students misbehave. (write example here)	1 2 3 4 5
8. I start with using the least intrusive discipline strategy when students misbehave. I review my hierarchy of discipline.	1 2 3 4 5
9. When a student is behaving appropriately again and calmed down after losing control, I immediately return my attention and encouragement to the student.	1 2 3 4 5
10. I have developed behavior plans that include identifying those inappropriate behaviors to ignore and the positive opposite behaviors to praise and reward.	1 2 3 4 5
11. I help children learn how to self-regulate through specific techniques (e.g., deep breathing, positive self-talk, positive imagery, anger or relaxation thermometer, Tiny Turtle puppet).	1 2 3 4 5
12. I use “positive forecasting” statements to predict a child’s success in earning his prize.	1 2 3 4 5
13. I work hard to redirect students to other activities when they are frustrated.	1 2 3 4 5
Future Goals Regarding Ignoring and Redirecting Strategies

Time Out to Calm Down and Other Consequences
1. I have taught my students what Time Out is used for and my students have practiced how to go to Time Out to calm down.	1 2 3 4 5
2. I only use Time Out for aggressive or destructive behavior.	1 2 3 4 5
3. When I use Time Out I am - calm, clear, patient, give very little attention to child in Time Out and set a timer until 2 minutes of calm is achieved.	1 2 3 4 5
4. When my student is calm and Time Out is over, I immediately re-engage my student to another activity.	1 2 3 4 5
5. I assist other children to learn how to ignore a child in Time Out and to give him or her privacy to calm down.	1 2 3 4 5
6. I have identified a safe place for Time Out that is away from other children and relatively boring.	1 2 3 4 5
7. I help children to practice the words they will use to help themselves calm down in Time Out. (e.g., "I can do it, I can calm down")	1 2 3 4 5
8. I use emotion coaching to focus on times when students are staying calm, trying again, and being patient even though it is frustrating.	1 2 3 4 5
9. After Time Out is over I re-engage the student and give praise and attention for positive behavior. I do not remind the child of why the child was in Time Out or force an apology.	1 2 3 4 5
10. I understand that the most effective consequences are immediate, quick, and followed with a new learning trial as soon as possible to help students be successful.	1 2 3 4 5
11. I am firm, respectful and control my negative emotions when engaged in a discipline strategy.	1 2 3 4 5
12. I have explained the hierarchy of discipline plan to parents of students in my classroom.	1 2 3 4 5
13. I have developed behavior plans, which include behaviors to praise and reward and those to ignore or use a discipline response. These are reviewed regularly by school staff and parents.	1 2 3 4 5
14. I have a few logical consequences that I use appropriately. (describe here)	1 2 3 4 5
15. I send home only positive notes and if I want to discuss a behavior issue I set up an appointment time to discuss in person with the parent.	1 2 3 4 5

11. I teach specific problem solving steps by helping them follow the sequence of : 1) define the problem, 2) think of solutions, 3) ask what would happen next? 4) evaluate the best choice, and 5) choose the best solution to try out.	1 2 3 4 5
12. I use books and stories of problem solving scenarios to practice the problem solving steps.	1 2 3 4 5
