ABOUT THE TRAINING

This online training prepares group leaders to deliver the evidence-based Teacher Classroom Management (TCM) Training Program to preschool and early school-age teachers (of children ages 3–8 years). The TCM program curriculum is focused on strengthening teacher classroom management strategies, promoting children's pro-social behavior and school readiness, and reducing classroom aggression and non-compliance with peers and teachers. Additionally, the curriculum focuses on helping teachers brainstorm ways they can effectively collaborate with parents to support their school involvement and promote consistency from home to school.

After the training, leaders can offer this 6-day curriculum to groups of teachers in their schools. It may be delivered in monthly or weekly meetings and takes 42 hours for teachers to complete the entire series. The curriculum uses the book Incredible Teachers (written by Carolyn Webster-Stratton, IY Developer) as the text for the teachers. Learn more about the TCM Program on our website!

ABOUT THE TRAINERS

Jamila Reid, Ph.D., is a clinical child psychologist who worked at the University of Washington Parenting Clinic with Dr. Webster-Stratton from 1997-2010. Currently, she is the Director of Implementation for The Incredible Years, and is a certified trainer for the Child and Teacher Incredible Years® Programs. She offers support, consultation, and training to agencies, group leaders, mentors, and researchers.

Carolyn Webster-Stratton, MSN, MPH, Ph.D. is Professor Emeritus at the University of Washington, School of Nursing, and Developer of The Incredible Years® Series. She is a licensed clinical psychologist and pediatric nurse practitioner. Dr. Webster-Stratton is a leading expert on training parents and teachers in child behavior management skills as well as training clinicians in curriculum for helping children develop social and emotional skills, problem solving, and school readiness.

She has published books for teachers, therapists, parents and children as well as numerous randomized control group studies evaluating The Incredible Years programs. She has over 30 years of clinical and research experience in helping families and teachers who have young children with behavior problems, Attention Deficit Disorder, and developmental delays.

Goals of the teacher training series:

- Promote teacher competencies
- Strengthen teachers' proactive teaching skills
- Strengthen teachers' behavior management skills
- Promote teachers' use of behavioral assessment and individually tailored behavior plans
- Promote consistency of behavior plans from school to home by teachers involving parents in planning
- Strengthen teachers' use of strategies which promote children's self-regulation skills (e.g. problem solving, anger management)
- Promote teachers' use of research-based discipline strategies for reducing aggression and disruptive behavior in the classroom
- Help teachers learn how to do social and emotion coaching with their students
- Increase teachers' support networks
